

Business Update – August 2, 2021

Everyone here at Lottery.com (“Lottery.com” or the “Company”) is diligently working on many fronts, including bringing in new partners, new users, new team members, new territories, new affiliates, and new features and products. I am pleased to take this opportunity to provide a business update.

We are delighted to announce that we expect our second quarter 2021 pro forma revenue, including our recently acquired interests in Juega Lotto and Aganar, to be in the range of $10.0 million to $10.5 million. Through the first six months of 2021 our pro forma revenue is tracking ahead of internal estimates and is already more than 60% above the full 12 months of 2020, also on a pro forma basis giving effect to the acquisitions of Juega Lotto and Aganar.

During the last four quarters ended June 30, 2021, sequential revenue growth averaged approximately 87% per quarter, and the Company expects to achieve similar average growth in the near term. This growth does not include the acquired interests in Juega Lotto and Aganar, which are expected to be an additional tailwind to revenue growth. As stated in the recently filed Form S-4, we believe the projected growth of our addressable markets, combined with our strategic operating plan, provide significant opportunities for continued growth.

With respect to the business combination with Trident Acquisitions Corp. (“Trident”), we have posted the anticipated next steps required to close the business combination on our Investor Relations website here, which also shows our significant progress. We expect to receive comments from the SEC on the Form S-4 by approximately the middle of August and we are committed to resolving and responding to such comments on an ongoing basis and having the Form S-4 declared effective and closing the business combination as quickly as possible. Prior to filing the Form S-4, several crucial matters needed to be completed, including finalizing our audited financial statements, closing our acquisition of Juega Lotto and Aganar, and like many SPACs, Trident needed to address the accounting complexities arising from the SEC Staff Statement on Accounting and Reporting Considerations for Warrants Issued by Special Purpose Acquisition Companies. Some of these matters caused a shift in our anticipated time to close the business combination. However, as an agile and nimble organization, capable of adjusting to change quickly, we have been accounting for this shift as we execute our growth plans and strategic initiatives.

We are very excited about our plans and initiatives. Our team has been growing in almost all areas, including an expansion of our product and development teams to support our planned launch of innovative new features and products, which we look forward to showing off. We continue to execute agreements with new partners, affiliates, and complimentary service providers, with the goal of expanding our portfolio of products, providing synergies with our current products, and realizing our vision to be a premier global marketplace for all forms of online gaming. Our entire team remains focused on executing upon this vision, without compromise and without distraction, and we remain confident and optimistic about our future.

We are grateful to have this opportunity to continue to build a relationship with Trident’s current and our future investors. On behalf of everyone at Lottery.com, I want to thank you for your ongoing support, appreciation of our vision, and commitment to win together.
